

Do these issues plague your business?

Amateur help?

Is your IT support too often provided by an employee of yours who has another important job to do?

IT turnover?

Average employment cycle for a junior IT resource is 8 to 12 months. Do you struggle to retain IT staff?

Costly talent?

Struggling to justify expensive IT staff with specialized skills? Challenged in cost justifying it?

Distracted employees?

Does your staff rely on other non-IT employees to deal with distracting IT problems?

IT budget crunch?

Under pressure to reduce IT costs, increase value or maximize profitability?

At its core, our enSircle supplemental services program provides the technical resource(s) access to our central dashboard and is delivered in an easy-to-manage subscription model that provides a "window" into the organization's network. Depending on how the MIS Department is structured, the Supplemental Program can also incorporate both overflow and out-tasked services to augment the organization's current skill set.
